Annual Stag Night 7:00 P.M. Tomorrow

Men! Tomorrow night is the night! The longest, thickest best trimmed beard will be judged by Miss Wilson and Mrs. Leupp. A fee of 25 cents will be charged to all attending who do not have a beard. You are required to wear a sweater and it will be judged on brightness.

Along with these contests other events have been slated. Boxing commissioner, Wally Johnson, has several good boxing and wrestling matches planned.

Don't forget! Saturday night in the gym.

MEN'S CLUB STAG NIGHT!
P.S. Plenty of refreshments.

Frosh.-Soph. Flag Hunt Set for Nov. 4

Rivalry between the Freshmen and Sophomore classes will come to a peak Nov. 4 when they vie in the annual Flag Hunt.

Each class will hide the other's flag and the winning class will be the one who can find its flag first.

Members of the classes will meet in front of the Administration Building at 7 p.m. The Flag

"Tell Me a Story" To be AWS Pajama Party Theme

Tomorrow evening, October 22, at 8:00, the Morrison Dining Hall will be crowded with girls wearing their most "stylish" pajamas and hugging their most-beloved stuffed animal. "Tell Me a Story" is the theme of the party, and each girl is assigned to one of twelve groups which will act out bedtime stories. Mrs. Stowe and Mrs. Riley will act as judges of the pajamas, and two prizes will be awarded. Refreshments will be served, too, so if you're a member of A.W.S., plan now to join the fun tomorrow evening!

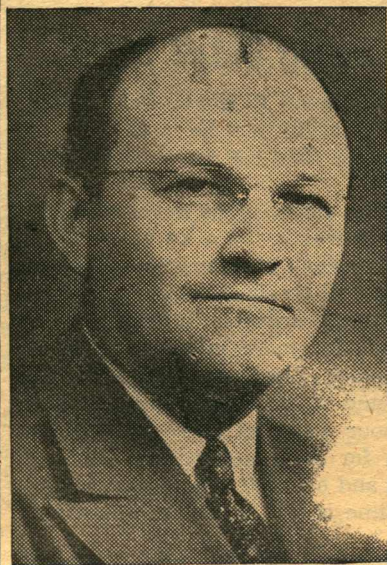

Hunt will get underway after the hunt rules have been given.

Each class will have four clues which are concealed in various places inside the boundaries. "These clues must be in English," added John Finkbeiner, sophomore class president. "One hour will be allowed to find each clue."

Class members must stick together and no cars are allowed. Everyone must be on foot.

Four roads form the boundaries of the area in which the flag hunt

Annual Fall Revival Begins Sunday; Dr. Hardy C. Powers to be Evangelist

By NOEL RILEY

Dr. Hardy C. Powers, senior General Superintendent of the Church of the Nazarene, will deliver the messages for the annual fall revival campaign which begins in College Church Sunday and ends Oct. 30, according to Rev. Eugene Stowe, pastor.

As chairman of the Board of General Superintendents, Dr. Powers has traveled around the world for the church. He is recently back from New Guinea, our newest mission field.

Dr. Powers maintains his home in Texas. He was the evangelist for our college revival services several years ago and has visited Nampa for District Assemblies and preachers' meetings.

Professor Warnie Tippitt will be in charge of the music for the coming services. Prayer meetings are being conducted both on and off the campus. Early morning prayer meetings are held around the altar in College Church. The Christian Workers Band is in charge of dorm and campus prayer meetings.

Services will convene on week days at 11:00 a.m. in the College Chapel and at 7:45 p.m. in College Church. There will be a 7:45 meeting on Saturday and services on Sunday will follow the regular schedule.

as a group, to a mountain lookout station which overlooked the valley and the three Payette Lakes. The activities were climaxed by a period of devotion in the evenings.

Dr. Percival Wesche and family, and Prof. Warnie Tippitt accompanied the seniors as sponsors.

The seniors were met by the juniors Saturday evening and were fed hot chili and punch.

With a spirit of class unity, and a spirit of cooperation with the juniors, Wendell Poole, class president, said the seniors are anticipating the year's events. In the near future is the junior-senior scavenger hunt. Poole says Clarence Kinzler, junior class president, is in charge of plans for the hunt to be held Friday, Nov. 4.

takes place: South Power Line on the east, Roosevelt on the north, 12th Street on the west, and the cemetery road on the south.

When asked what he thought about the Flag Hunt, Bob Brooks, Freshman class president, said "The Freshmen are sure to win!"

The Flag Hunt should be over by 11:30 p.m., so the two classes have planned a party in the dining hall to be held from 12 midnight to 1 a.m. There will be games and refreshments, according to John, but no committees have been chosen yet.

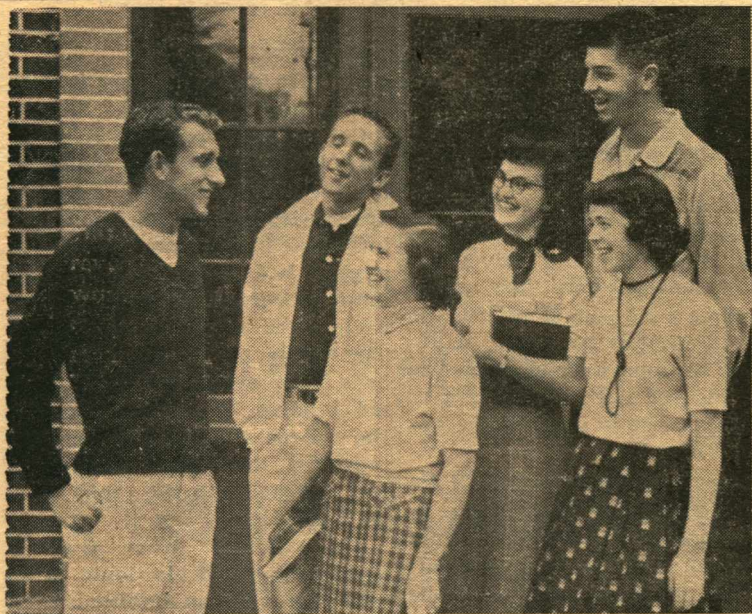

In addition to the Flag Hunt, the freshmen will have to get up

Seniors Retreat To Shore Lodge

Last Thursday morning members of the senior class left for Shore Lodge at McCall. Tradition was broken this year as the class of 1956 had a retreat instead of a sneak. The school gave them a big breakfast as a send-off, Thursday morning.

McCall was the site of three recreation-filled days for the seniors. Many felt that this event was the most enjoyable of their college years.

Recreation included boating, bicycling, playing shuffleboard, ping-pong, badminton, and hiking

Community Service is the goal of this sophomore initiation committee. Frosh activities scheduled for Nov. 4 and 5 will include work on community projects such as painting the park houses and roofing the municipal swimming pool bathhouses and spectator stands. Committee members shown above are, left to right, John Finkbeiner, chairman; Duane Stueckle, Nadine Seward, Doris Miller, Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick, and Al Freeman.

Are You on the Losing Side?

Many people are but don't do much about it. If you have failed to devote a necessary amount of time to study you have started out on the wrong side. Every time you do less than the requirement you endanger your future.

All of us want to be successful. Yet many of us never will be. Why? We are joining the losing side. However, it's a lot easier than that, to get on the losing side. You really don't have to join anything. In fact, the less you do, the sooner you will be among those who fail.

There is much to be gained from extra-curricular activities. We need them in order to free our minds for more intensive studies. But let's put things in their proper place. The best way to do this is to set up a schedule for your day and week. Remember that you should study two hours for every hour spent in class. Write that into your schedule, then make room for other activities.

If you will faithfully devote time and effort to the requirements, you will be amazed at how much time is left for other important things.

During these years, you are laying a foundation. Whatever you do, make that foundation a good one. You will be a winner tomorrow — if you are preparing to be one now.

LOOKING AROUND with MARVIN BRUNSON

In looking around this week I find there are numerous assignments which have not been completed. And with the revival coming next week we will be even busier.

Because of this I find we are faced with a dilemma. The pessimist may predict the future by saying that we are already so far behind we will never see light again. He may worry about his classes and stay up all night trying to study, neglecting the revival. The result will be more confusion.

But the wise student will set up a plan to budget his time for the next week like this:

- (1) He will go to the revival.
- (2) He will study during the time he usually wastes such as in the morning before classes and during free periods.
- (3) He will be optimistic and believe that if he honestly does his best, God will see he does not go unrewarded.

JAN JOHNSON

The question: What do you admire most in a faculty member?

Dee Freeborn: The thing that impressed me most is their interest in the students' spirituality. In high school we have all kinds of teachers, but here each one is willing to help you out whenever you need him.

Jean Wilson: The fact that they take time to be interested in every students' spiritual life.

Mary Wing: I admire them most for the special interest they take in everyone.

Marvin Brunson: Most of all I appreciate their willingness to help with both spiritual and classroom problems.

Violet Jahn: I appreciate their sincerity and their interest in each person as an individual.

Lloyd Bellamy: Their interest in salvation as well as education. It seems that NNC students admire the spiritual example of faculty members above anything else. The faculty are always will-

College High as a Part Of NNC's Associated Student Body

Jerry Hull
CHS Pres.

At NNC there has always been one Associated Student Body with College High included. This seemed to be a very harmonious arrangement for many years. By necessity all must share the same campus, dormitories, dining hall, coffee shop, library, gym, chapel, and even classrooms to some extent. Also religious services, chapel services, commencement, Oasis, societies, programs and athletics. Due to the difference in age and experience, College High students have taken the "Little Brother" role in all respects.

Campus day, school picnics, literary programs and society games are planned and executed by college students, with H.S. students participating (when chosen) and assigned.

When other high schools over the state play basketball their game is the main event. At N.N.C. College High plays the preliminary games (often at or near the dinner hour) then clears away for the Main Event. They have never made any complaint about this but remain for the college game and become a strong part of the cheering section (usually to a greater percent and with more zest than the college student body).

A check percentage-wise of the A.S.B. budget will show that College High students pay about $675 toward the Oasis. The College High section usually has about 14 pages. To leave out these 14 pages would reduce the cost of the Oasis very little and at the same time would reduce the coverage that is portrayed of life on our campus. College High has been pleased with their share in this enterprise in spite of the apparent inequality.

In most colleges the A.S.B. fee ranges from $2 to $60 per year. In most high schools the fee is from $4 to $10. College High students pay $20 per year the same as the ing to help with student affairs and activities, and students appreciate the special interest that they take in each person as an intelligent individual.

Christ - Character and Culture?

By JOY TINK

It is assumed that any person who is undertaking to get a college education has a desire to develop culturally.

Especially in a liberal arts school we wish to increase our knowledge in a variety of subjects, as well as our major field.

We often hear the scripture verse, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." (Luke 2:52). At Northwest Nazarene College we strive to be more like Christ. To me Christ is the very epitome of culture — a well-mannered, courteous, refined person, free from what is coarse, vulgar, inelegant. It should be obvious that a person graduating from a Christian college such as ours has an obligation to God, to himself, and to society to emerge as a cultured individual, or a person striving toward culture. There are many persons who come to college lacking an appreciation for good music, art, or good literature, but wouldn't we be inconsistent in our ideals as a college if we did not expect these persons to develop their tastes when they have the opportunity; namely, to attend recitals, art exhibits, and the like? Culture is an integral part of Christianity and character. Do you try to separate them?

College students and pay it with less pressure required.

College High students have always been pleased with the benefits they have received and have never tried to gain more power or influence in the management of student body affairs which is almost entirely (as it would be expected) carried on by college students. They have been proud to be a part of the N.N.C. Associated Student body. Until recently the college student body has appreciated them and made them feel welcome in the role they were playing.

The friction arose from a closely contested election in a recent year when an ambitious campaign manager conceived the idea that he might make a play for the H.S. group without alienating other groups. A play for the freshman class, the sophomore class or some campus club might have

LSPs, ADPs Win Gridiron Tussels

By WALLY JOHNSON

Beefs, bruises and blisters tipped off the intramural football season this week as the LSPs edged out a 12-6 victory over the SLAs.

A pass from Mack Dewater to Cliff Oleson set up the only SLA touchdown. Tom Kegley made the score as he carried the ball around right end.

The SLAs missed the point after touchdown.

The LSPs came roaring back and tied the score as Hal Weber crossed the SLA goal line on a quarterback sneak. The score stood at 6-6 when the LSPs missed the extra point.

The winners scored their second touchdown in the second quarter as Dale Knott intercepted a pass on the SLA's 20 yard line and ran for the TD.

The SLAs threatened to score three times but the LSPs held out to win 12-6.

ADPs WIN — Possessing a smooth offense and a tight defense the ADPs blanked the defending champion Olys 14-0.

Four plays after the ADPs gained possession of the ball they scored on a drive that started on their own 30-yard line.

The winners' second touchdown came in the second period.

Dan Martin was the hero for the winners, scoring all of their 14 points. One of the ADP touchdowns and both their extra points were scored on passes from full-back Clarence Kinzler to Martin.

SLA, ADP, GIRLS WIN

The SLA girls rallied in the final five minutes of the game Monday afternoon, to defeat the LSPs 32-29 in volleyball competition.

The LSPs led by eight points at the half and continued to hold their lead until the SLA rally in the closing minutes of the contest.

In another close game the ADPs downed the Olys 33-24. With approximately five minutes remaining in the game the ADPs led by only one point, 21-20. The winners rallied in the final minutes, however, to run their final lead to nine points.

NNC Thin Clads To Meet ISC

A Northwest Nazarene College track team will compete against a squad from Idaho State College in Boise's Bronco Stadium at 7 p.m. tonight, prior to the ISC-College of Idaho football game.

Coach Orrin Hills said, Wednesday, at least two events would be run with possibly a third. Competing for the Crusaders will be Harry Main, Dale Ortney and Leroy James in the mile, and John Finkbeiner in a feature half-mile race. Ron Ranton and Clarence Kinzler may run in a feature quarter-mile race, Hills said.

Purpose of the meet is to attempt to create interest in the cross-country sport in this area, Hills stated.

"It seems interest in cross country is getting less and less each year," he continued.

Provided enough interest is shown, a meet will be held Nov. 5 in Pocatello. Idaho State, NNC and Ricks would compete in it.

COLLEGE HIGH

been used. This lead has been followed to a fault, bringing the campaign into the H.S. building to consolidate the H.S. vote.

It has been said that the H.S.

controlled the election. This can hardly be true when they have less than 90 votes to 190 in the freshman class alone. It has been said that for the H.S. to vote is not collegiate. It is not their voting which is non-collegiate. It is the campaign that was not collegiate.

A group of college students have agitated and circulated petitions to dis-franchise the H.S. students. Rather than throw a wedge into an otherwise harmonious organization why not correct the distasteful campaign practices.

It would be possible to prevent the campaign's being carried into H.S. assemblies and to instruct candidates and campaign managers to refrain from singling out the H.S. or other minority groups in their speeches.

If the campaigns were thus de-emphasized in the H.S., it is probable that not more than 50 H.S. votes would be cast and there is no reason to believe that their vote would be a bloc vote. Why not give corrective measures a try before depriving the H.S. student of his vote for the A.S.B. officers?

Cupid's Corner

Whew! This week has almost made me decide to retire! Imagine managing two engagements within three days!

Rosemary Aman's engagement to Richard Proctor, a senior at the University of Oregon, was announced Sunday, October 16.

Then Don Hartwig decided to keep up the excitement by presenting Joan Hamilton with a ring on Wednesday, October 19.

CWB Chariot Journeys Speech Club

Christian Workers' Band has been busy this week as usual holding YPS and church services wherever they are needed. George Dillon's group held an evening service on October the 16th at North Side. Tuesday afternoon Quincy Angier and a singing group presented a short service at the hospital. If you were in College Church last Sunday night you know that CWB was in charge of the NYPS program. It was a narrated pantomime with lamplighter emphasis. Newly organized trios and a solo were presented.

The Speech Club met at 8:00 Tuesday evening to view the film, "Speech Sounds and Their Sources." Jim Martin presented a humorous reading, and Betty Richardson had charge of devotions. The speech contest was discussed.

Officers for this year are president, Jim Ridgeway; vice-president, Quincy Angier; program chairman, Pat Weigelt; and secretary-treasurer, Jim Martin.

Circle "K" Luncheon

The Circle "K" Luncheon held Wednesday in the Morrison Hall parlor featured a talk by Mr. Leupp, club sponsor, on "Service to Community After Graduation." New members were voted on. Officers for this year are president, Max Urwin; vice-president, Floyd Johnson; secretary, Paul Freeberg; and treasurer, Leon Doane.

IRC News

The first International Relations Club meeting of the year was held Tuesday evening. Dr. Thelma Culver presented a talk and showed slides taken during her recent trip to Europe. Darrel Reisch, president, presided.

Society Plays Selected

Not only do NNCers think of turkey at Thanksgiving time, but they are anxious for the thrill and drama of the society plays. This semester the ADPs and Olys are joining forces to present "The Man", by Mel Dinelli, on November 24-25. A small cast centers around a mentally retarded person who lives in a boarding house. This unique play, with an off stage murder, is a psychological study of human beings. It has been successfully produced by several State Universities. A cast has not yet been selected, so those interested should turn out for try-outs.

Also veiled in secrecy because of the competition, are the SLAs and LSPs who have chosen "This is That Night", by Dana Thomas. The story is a war drama about six soldiers in World War II who were deserted on a lonely island. The play is directed by Clarice Harmon and Ardis Manley and will be presented December 2-3. No cast has been chosen.

Business Club Meets

Jean Wilson was elected president of the business club in a meeting Tuesday evening. Due to an excess of activity points Harold Weber was forced to resign from this office.

Other officers are: vice-president, Kenneth Haney; secretary-treasurer, Pat Nine; program chairman, Phyllis Hartley and sponsors Rose Voget and Hayes Johnson.

A film on selling was shown, entitled, "It's The Little Things That Count."

Films to be Presented

A film entitled "Our Bible — How It Came To Us" will be presented to the Student Body tonight.

The film tells the story of how our English Bible came to us, from the First Century A.D. to the present time. It is put out by the American Bible Society.

The film "Pilgrims' Progress", will also be shown.

Bob's comment about the initiation was that "It is O.K. this year, but for frosh next year — just wait."
